

The CEU Summer University announces the course:

Internet Governance, Civil Society and Public Policy Advocacy

This intensive summer course is designed to help both researchers and activists gain new insights into the role which civil society can play in advocating for a free and open internet, and will highlight the potential of technology and online tools for mobilizing and organizing constituencies and for enhancing the security and privacy of advocates.

This 2013 Course will focus on:

- Internet law and policy
- Social media for mobilization
- Online tools for advocacy, security and privacy
- Capacity building for civil society

Course directors: Monroe Price (Annenberg), Susan Abbott (Annenberg), Kate Coyer (CEU), Leslie Harris (Center for Democracy & Technology)

Guest speakers include: Sam Gregory (Witness), Marius Dragomir (OSF), Eric King (Privacy Intl), Eduardo Bertoni (Center for Studies on Freedom of Expression and Access to Information (CELE) at Palermo University School of Law), Joan Barata Mir (Ramon Llull University), Andrew Stroehlein (Human Rights Watch), Sameer Padania (OSF)

8-19 July, 2013, Central European University, Budapest, Hungary

"The level of the course was enriched by the diversity of the topical areas that were covered. I was offered an opportunity to learn a lot of things within a short space of time, yet gaining deep understanding."

—Course Participant 2011

Application deadline: March 15, 2013 • Online application and further information: <http://www.summer.ceu.hu/internet-2013>